

WIEBE WAKKER

My name is Wiebe Wakker. In 2019, I completed a record-breaking world trip: I drove solo and without money from the Netherlands to Australia, in an electric car with only 200 km of range.

To make it to Sydney I relied on the generosity of strangers. Through my website people could Plug Me In with energy; a meal, place to sleep or electricity for the car. So the route was determined and I crossed the globe in the most unconventional way.

This journey took me 3 years and I travelled through 33 countries. Like every adventure I faced challenges, had highlights, life lessons and I experienced a lot of human connection.

Now I returned home I share my unique story as a speaker. My presentation on this bizarre adventure is full of hardships, twists and humour. In which I particularly emphasise the value of cooperation, sustainability and perseverance.

BBC

CNN

The Guardian

NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC TRAVELER

Bloomberg

THE WALL STREET JOURNAL

UNILAD

THE TIMES

My story touches on themes that are also at play within your organisation. Just think about collaboration: how do you get people on board with your mission? And how do you achieve goals that seem impossible? It is covered in detail in my presentation.

So as an inspiring speaker, my stories go far beyond the adventure alone. I touch on core themes relevant to business, healthcare, government, education, sport and many other industries and individuals in this fast-changing world.

SUSTAINABILITY

PERSEVERANCE

INSPIRATION

wiebe@plugmeinproject.com

+31634639560

